

ART. 1: SCOPE OF APPLICATION

- 1.1 These General Conditions of Sale ("General Conditions") apply to all supplies relating to products ("Products", "Product") manufactured and marketed by FCR SPA (hereinafter also the "Seller").
- 1.2 The General Conditions are published and consultable on the website www.fcr.it and, therefore, are understood to be known and accepted by the Purchaser (hereinafter also the "Purchaser"), even by mere conclusive fact or conduct, regardless of the express written acceptance by the Buyer.
- 1.3 The General Conditions may be waived or modified, only in writing, by the Parties. In case of derogation or modification of the General Conditions, the same General Conditions apply for the parts not derogated or not modified.
- 1.4 Any general purchase conditions of the Buyer do not apply, even partially, unless they are accepted in writing by the Seller.

ART. 2: ORDER AND CONCLUSION OF THE CONTRACT

- 2.1 The supply order formulated by the Buyer is to be considered accepted by the Seller and, consequently, the sales contract concluded, following the sending of the Order Confirmation by the Seller or when the Seller executes the order through conclusive. The contract is considered concluded in the terms and conditions indicated in the Order Confirmation.
- 2.2 The supply order sent by the Buyer is to be understood as an irrevocable purchase proposal pursuant to art. 1329 Civil Code and is, therefore, irrevocable and unchangeable without the prior written consent of the Seller.
- 2.3 The order relating to Products built at the request of the Buyer cannot be canceled and/or modified, even partially, without the prior written consent of the Seller.
- 2.4 The supply order sent by the Buyer does not bind the Seller until its acceptance according to the methods indicated in the previous art. 2.1. Changes to the order, after the conclusion of the contract, are valid only if agreed in writing by the Parties.

ART. 3: DELIVERY TERMS

- 3.1 Delivery terms, calculated in working days, are never binding for the Seller and must, therefore, be considered merely indicative and non-essential. The Seller cannot be held responsible for any damages, even indirect and/or of any nature, that may arise to the Buyer as a result of the delay or failure to deliver the Products within the terms indicated. The Buyer will therefore not be able to make any request for compensation for any damage, even indirect and/or of any nature, resulting from the delay or failure to deliver the Products within the terms indicated. No penalty for late delivery will apply.
- 3.2 The delivery terms start from the date of conclusion of the Contract, as indicated in the previous art. 2.1. ("Order and conclusion of the contract"), or from a different date specified in the Contract. If the Buyer must pay part of the price as a deposit or must provide guarantees, the delivery terms start from the payment of the deposit or from the release of the guarantees. In the case of multiple orders, they start from the last of these.
- 3.3 The delivery terms may, in any case, be suspended in the following cases:
 - a) unforeseeable circumstances and/or force majeure and/or other circumstances not attributable to willful misconduct and/or fault of the Seller, such as, by way of example, strikes, unrest unions, lockouts, fires, floods, health emergencies, unexpected business difficulties, unexpected labor shortages, unexpected lack of availability of raw materials and/or energy;
 - b) impediments, delays or failure to deliver materials by the Seller's suppliers for reasons not attributable to the latter;

- 3.4 The terms for delivery will start again from the day following the day on which the reason that led to the suspension ceases.
- 3.5 In the event of changes to the Products agreed by the Parties after the conclusion of the Contract and during its execution, the delivery terms are automatically extended by the reasonable period, at the discretion of the Seller, to make the changes.

ART. 4: SUSPENSION OF THE EXECUTION OF THE CONTRACT

- 4.1 The Seller may suspend the execution of the Contract if the financial conditions of the Buyer have become such as to place the achievement of the consideration in clear danger, unless the Buyer provides a guarantee deemed suitable in the opinion of the Seller.
- 4.2 The Seller may suspend the execution of the Contract until the Buyer has promptly provided a guarantee, deemed appropriate by the Seller, for the fulfillment of its contractual obligations, if one or more of the following circumstances occur: - in the event that the Buyer is in default of what is requested by the Seller for the correct fulfillment of the order; - in the event of failure by the Buyer to fulfill the payment obligation of the portion of the consideration due as a down payment or failure by the Buyer to fulfill the payment obligation of one of the agreed payment deadlines or failure to issue the guarantees within the agreed terms, also with reference to other supplies; - in the event that the Buyer is in a state of insolvency, is incapable of fulfilling existing contractual obligations towards third parties, is declared bankrupt or is admitted to any insolvency or similar proceeding. - should there be protests, seizures, foreclosures and/or, more generally, any prejudicial act that would cast doubt on the solvency of the Buyer and, therefore, the consequent payment of the consideration within the agreed terms and on the agreed deadlines;
- 4.3 If one or more hypotheses provided for by art. occur. 4.1 or 4.2 and the Buyer has not promptly provided a suitable guarantee for the fulfillment of its contractual obligations, this failure will constitute a reason that may legitimize the Seller to make use of the express termination clause provided for by the art. 12.

- b. Communicate to the Supplier, at the same time as sending the order or purchase contract, the destination or final recipient of the goods being supplied.
- c. Deliver to the Supplier any documentation necessary to identify the end user, the intended use of the products supplied, as well as, where necessary, copies of the licenses or permits required by international legislation.

- e. Not directly or indirectly export the goods purchased from the Supplier to the territories of Crimea/Sevastopol/Donetsk/Luhans, Iran, Syria, Russia, Belarus, Cuba and North Korea.

Buyer will not do anything that could cause Supplier to violate Export Laws and shall protect, indemnify, defend, and hold harmless Supplier from any fines, penalties, losses, and liabilities incurred by Buyer due to failure to comply with this trade compliance clause. Failure to comply with this paragraph shall be deemed a material breach of contractual obligations and grounds for termination of the contract.
